Dear Ms. Marrou:

I represent Mr. Schobinger. I am traveling in Europe, returning late on Wednesday. We are in the process of retaining local counsel in Texas on this matter. (I took the Texas bar years ago but do not have an active membership.). We have informed Twitter's counsel that there is no emergency here, as our client does not have any of the confidential information it claims he does, as he deleted it all after he resigned, and there is no imminent threat to Twitter of any kind. We would request that the court wait until next week to hold a hearing, if any, which would allow me time to return and for us to retain local counsel.

Thank you very much,

Ms. Marrou,

My assistant just forwarded me your email below. John Bramble and I, counsel for Plaintiff, are available to speak with Judge Larson at his convenience, but clearly we missed his 2:30 window referenced below. I apologize for that.

Counsel for Mr. Schobinger, Shannon Liss-Riordan, is copied on this email. Ms. Liss-Riordan can of course speak for herself, but she has informed us that she is traveling in Europe this week. Ms. Liss-Riordan also informed us that her partner, Mr. Bradley Manewith, is available in her absence. Mr. Manewith is also included on this email.

Please let us know how you would like to proceed and thank you for your attention to this matter.

Judge Larson would like to speak to your attorney regarding this case. If there is attorney that represents the defendant they would also need the opportunity to be present as well. We can make this happen at 2:30 if all counsel is available.
